INTRODUCTION

The many awards listed in this brochure have been established largely through gifts from individuals who, with only a few exceptions, were alumni or alumnae of Victoria College. Some gifts go back to Victoria's Cobourg period, 1836-1890; many are very recent donations. A significant number of awards have been funded through bequests, as graduates and friends have included Victoria University in their wills. Victoria protects, as a matter of policy, the capital value of bequests and donations through prudent investment, so that the generosity of the past will continue to be meaningful for future generations.

Scholarships and bursaries offer tangible support to Vic students. The recognition afforded by an award is often a determining factor in the decision of students to attend the University of Toronto as members of this College. At critical times, financial assistance makes it possible for some students to continue their studies.

Victoria believes strongly that the recognition of academic accomplishment is also a significant encouragement for students to perform well; and just as strongly that none of its students in good standing should be unable to complete a program because of financial constraints. Given the high level of achievement among our students, the opportunity - and indeed the responsibility - to create new awards is clearly one of our highest priorities. We invite enquiries from our friends and graduates about establishing through donations and bequests the lasting memorial of an award at Victoria College.

ADMISSION SCHOLARSHIPS

Funds provided over many years by the donors listed below now support a program of about 120 plus admission scholarships offered automatically to outstanding secondary school students who indicate Victoria as their first choice of college at the University of Toronto. No application is required for a Victoria College admission scholarship. Notification is sent in the offer of admission from the University of Toronto.

Victoria College admission scholarships must be held at Victoria College. If a student who has been awarded a Victoria college admission scholarship chooses to register at another college or Faculty at the University of Toronto, the award is withdrawn.

Students may also receive additional entrance awards from other divisions at the University of Toronto (Office of Enrolment Services or the Faculty of Arts and Science) to a limit of $20,000 for the first year of study.

For the purpose of awarding admission scholarships, the committee will use the grades available at the time of assessment. Decisions concerning scholarships are not subsequently revisited once the final grades become available.

IN-COURSE AWARDS

In-course awards are automatically assessed and given to students who have completed the first, second and third groups of 5.0 credits excluding transfer credits. An average in the A range is required (Grade Point Average 3.50+). Some awards also require that financial need be demonstrated. No application is required.

Students holding renewable admission scholarships from Victoria College are not eligible to receive additional in-course scholarships.

Students do not always accumulate their credits in groups of five per year, or in cumulative totals divisible by five. In order to produce a list of candidates for in-course awards, the Registrar's Office uses a method of calculating averages which treats all candidates fairly without regard to whether they have been registered as part-time or full-time, winter session or summer session students. The method makes use of the Sessional Grade Point Averages reported by the Office of the Faculty Registrar at the end of each session. These averages are multiplied by the number of credits required from each session to produce the average for the credit group. For example, a student might complete 4.0 credits in a first winter session and 2.0 in the following summer session. This student's average for the first group of 5.0 credits would be calculated by multiplying the winter session GPA by four, the summer session GPA by one, adding the results and dividing by five.

It is the responsibility of the student to inform the Awards Committee of an amended grade that may make him/her eligible for an in-course scholarship. Notification must be submitted to the Awards Committee within one calendar year in which the course was taken or the status was earned.

In-course awards are presented at the annual Charter Day Convocation in October.
